

Dear Prospective Employer/Trainee

Thank you for your inquiry about the Tocal Traineeship Program. I hope the following information is useful to you and might encourage you to join us in 2017.

Tocal College has a long history of agricultural training in New South Wales. We work closely with rural industries to ensure outcomes are relevant and highly valued. Our qualifications come from the National Agriculture, Horticulture and Conservation and Land Management Training Package and are therefore recognised under the Australian Qualifications Framework.

What Responsibilities Are Expected Of Trainees At Each Qualification Level?

Certificate III graduates are considered able to undertake many tasks without constant supervision, particularly routine tasks within their specified role on the farm. They may however require initial instruction and regular monitoring. They should be aware of general Work Health & Safety (WHS), Quality Assurance (QA), environmental and animal welfare considerations. Training at Tocal supports this as well as providing knowledge and skills in other core areas of pastures, crop and livestock production.

During Certificate IV, trainees are equipped with the skills and knowledge necessary to allow independent work across a range of activities. They are expected to undertake many tasks without supervision and also to participate in development and planning of farm programs. Graduates at this level are commonly able to assist in management of specific areas of the farm.

For those interested in pursuing their Rural Studies further the Tocal Diploma in Agriculture, on-line, home study course is available. Tocal College also has articulation arrangements with a number of Universities.

At What Level Is Entry Possible?

Each year of the traineeship results in a separate qualification with entry level determined by previous experience and skill level. On successful completion trainees may either leave with that qualification or choose to return and attempt a higher qualification.

There are two main pathways for new enrolments:

A newly enrolled trainee with reasonable industry experience (or ability to quickly gain basic experience on the job) may be eligible for direct entry to the regular Certificate III program including some basic Cert II OHS related units. Reasonable experience may be gained growing up on a farm and from involvement in farm activities, from extended periods of part time or casual farm work, from short periods of fulltime farm work and/or completion of HSC Primary Industries/Agriculture.

A newly enrolled trainee with considerable industry experience (and preferably HSC Agriculture/Primary Industries or equivalent) may be eligible for direct entry into the Certificate IV traineeship program. Mature age enrolments with farm experience are usually eligible for entry at this level.

How Long Should the Traineeship be Expected to Take? ('Length of Term')

Vocational Training Orders set nominal length of terms according to trainee entry level.

Base entry students and those continuing on to the next level will have a 1 year nominal term.

A trainee directly entering Cert III or IV (i.e. without completing the previous level) will usually be given a 2 year nominal term although earlier, competency based completion is possible.

Trainees with extensive farm experience, exposure to a broad spectrum of work and with good support may be eligible to complete all their residential training and their Traineeship, within 12 months.

Tocal strongly advises Trainees without the above benefits to plan around a longer term of 18-24 months. This will allow more experience on farm and greater time to practice techniques and principles trained at Tocal College before final assessment is required. There is also the advantage that an extended term allows greater, valuable experience for those choosing to continue onto the Cert IV course.

Selecting a full term also allows those farms wishing to spread the residential component the opportunity to do so.

Trainees and their Supervisor's should discuss with Tocal their most suitable length of term.

What Is Studied At Tocal And How Often?

Please look over the 2017 timetable included at the back of the accompanying Guidebooks for either Trainee or Employer. This gives an indication of the units offered at each level. Please also refer to: www.tocal.com.au/

Individual students may have adequate skills in some units to allow Recognition of Prior Learning. This may reduce the attendance required at Tocal further.

Cert III Trainees receive an initial block of mostly WHS and Farm Induction training which includes but is not limited to: quad bike or side by side vehicle training, tractor and machinery training, first aid training, environmental awareness and chemical training.

Overall, trainees are requested to attend all scheduled blocks at their location spread over 12 to 24 months depending upon their anticipated "Length of Term" (see above).

If unable to attend a block(s) then alternative Training & Assessment may exist but must be negotiated to make completion possible.

Cert IV program has six weeks of training timetabled. This is only offered at Paterson Campus in 2017.

Dairy trainees are encouraged to attend all six weeks of timetabled training.

Non dairy trainees usually choose to omit the block which contains “Manage milking”. A number of alternatives exist if needed or desired. (NB If they have previously completed Cert III it is possible that replacement units are unnecessary in order to meet qualification requirements).

Please note: Opportunities to undertake optional AI, welding and Pindone / 1080 Induction courses (as shown on the timetable) are provided during the year but are normally at the trainee’s own expense. L4 chemical training is also shown on the timetable. Provided it is taken at Tocal when scheduled there is no additional charge for this. Various PROfarm courses are also offered through Tocal at the trainee’s expense.

Finally, there is a major study tour of New Zealand planned for 2017. This event normally takes place every 3-4 years and is open to all participants of the Tocal Traineeship Program. This includes present and past trainees and employers. Providing contact details are kept up to date all eligible tour participants will receive an invite as the tour date approaches.

What Incentives Are Available To Trainees And Employers And Can An Australian Apprenticeship Support Network (AASN) Help?

Significant incentives are available to both employer and trainee. Financial incentives for employers can be found on-line at www.australianapprenticeships.gov.au. However, as these subsidies and allowances are constantly changing and have specific eligibility criteria, it is recommended that you contact your local AASN representative for more detail. They will also visit you on farm to help with sign up and initiation of the traineeship. A list of AASN’s closest to you can also be accessed from the above site. Alternatively the Australian Apprenticeship’s referral line number is 13 38 73. State government incentives for trainees can be found at:

https://www.training.nsw.gov.au/aacs/advice\_instructions/govt\_incentives.html and help reimburse both travel and accommodation costs. Tocal assists in the application for these at the completion of each block. Accommodation and travel allowances paid by the state government can only be made directly to eligible trainees. Employers should consider this if they choose to assist their trainee with accommodation or travel expenses. Both levels of Government assistance are available to help offset the costs of attending training.

Tuition Fees for 2017 have been capped at $1000.

Exemptions or subsidised fees may still be available for students who meet particular criteria. Payment must be made each block for board and lodging for students who stay on campus.

Where Can I Find Additional Information About A Tocal Traineeship?

Information about the College, including both full and part time courses can be found at <http://www.tocal.nsw.edu.au/future-students>. This also opens to a copy of the College's prospectus. Should you choose to join us then please complete and return the Traineeship Application form, located on our web site.

Does It Matter When A Traineeship Is Started?

Most new trainees would start at the beginning of 2017. However, enrolment during the year is common, with students simply continuing on into the following year until all necessary units have been completed. Starting date should be discussed with your chosen AASN rep to ensure it will not affect your access to incentives. From a training perspective the College is very flexible and will work hard to accommodate the starting date that suits you and your business.

Please take the time to read our Employer and Trainee Guidebooks. Feel free to call me on the number indicated below to discuss the course. If I cannot answer your call directly then please leave a return call number and a suggested time and I will endeavour to call you then. Especially please call if you would like help contacting an Australian Apprenticeship Support Network or would like a hard copy of any of the information referred to.

Thanks again for your interest,

Yours sincerely,
